

*“Advice and counsel that is concise, timely,
on-point and cost-effective.”*

Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics Podcast Features Ted Banks

Partner Ted Banks was recently interviewed by Adam Turteltaub, Vice President of the Society of Corporate Compliance & Ethics. In its “Compliance Perspective” podcast Mr. Banks provided advice to compliance officers on how to balance their obligations to the company, to the public at large and to the compliance profession. With over three decades of inhouse experience as a Compliance Officer, Mr. Banks is frequently asked to share his insights into managing a successful compliance role within an organization. He has been a regular contributor to SCCE programs and is a national authority on antitrust compliance. SCCE helps its membership of over 5,800 Compliance Officers and staff protect their companies and meet regulatory requirements through education, training and certification.

To listen to the full SCCE podcast, please click here.