

“Advice and counsel that is concise, timely,
on-point and cost-effective.”

Partner Stephanie Scharf spoke at ALM Legalweek 2023’s panel: Finding the Story Between the Lines

Partner Stephanie Scharf was part of a panel examining some of the legal sector’s newest thinking on ediscovery and the impact of recent advances in machine learning and artificial intelligence.

The panel examined new approaches to visualizing multiple forms of data with machine learning and better search capabilities, ediscovery professionals can now understand more at a glance than ever before. The panel also looked at how new approaches to legacy search and use of artificial intelligence is reshaping the way ediscovery is done and takes a look into the future about what is yet to come.

Stephanie used her experience as a trial lawyer to discuss how new technologies can help lawyers find key facts and images, and use that discovery to make persuasive, fact-based presentations to judges and juries.
